Project details

Design benches by Zaha Hadid Architects for the Award-winning scheme Pierres Vives in Montpellier. The Pierres Vives building was designed by Zaha Hadid Architects and houses three institutes: the archive, the multi-media library and the sports department. From a distance it seems as if the building is one monolithic entity, but from a closer distance the division of the three institutes is noticeable. Zaha Hadid Architects was also responsible for the design of the Pierres...
