

Concrete urban elements - KØS Museum of urban Art, Køge, DENMARK

Location: Køge (DK)

Public Space

Project details

For the KØS Museum Plaza in Køge, bright white concrete urban elements such as benches, slabs and step units with a contrasting strip were manufactured. KØS Museum is a museum dedicated to art in public spaces and is located in the centre of Køge. Not only does the square provide the connection with the pedestrian street and the city, but it is also a dynamic square where events, exhibitions can be organized. The square only consists of concrete urban elements. Large...
