Project details

Try to feel nothing - in an environment of everything. Looking for a way out on a thrilling but crowded and noisy music festival? A few moments of pure nothingness in an environment of everything? Docking Station is the place to be. Inspired by musician and artist Stijn Meuris and created by international designer Roel Vandebeek, Docking Station is shaped and constructed to get in touch with all your senses. It's part of a bigger project called "Objet Portrait" in which...
